"CONTINUED INSPIRATION."

Rev. Robert Mackenzie Praises the Salvation Army.

CHICAGO, May 3.—At a talk on "Continued Inspiration" the Rev. Robert Mackenzie, D. D., of New York, told the graduating classes of the McCormick Theological seminary that General Booth of the Salvation Army and other religious workers of him on the Standard had blazed the way for them at the commencement exercise held in the church of the covenant, last night.

He told them that their inspiration was in a living Christ; that they must bring themselves to realize the changes that are taking place in the religious fields, and he besought them to aim for a higher quality of human righteousness in society.

MCKINLEY MODEL DEAD.

CHICAGO, May 3.—A five days notice to move pinned on the floor of an unkempt room on the top floor of the Otis building, Madison & LaSalle Streets, and a note from an artist asking him to come to pose for a picture, tells the story of the last days of P. D. C. Stockel, 65 years old, once well-to-do, who was found dead in his room last night by two policemen. Heart disease is said to have been the cause of his death. Stockel had occupied the same room since 1886, twenty-one years ago.

Several times he is said to have posed for statues for the late President McKinley whose appearance he is said to have resembled. It is said the statue in McKinley Park was modeled in a measure after the old man's appearance.

IT MAKES A DIFFERENCE.

It makes all the difference in the world to the convivial man where, and what, he drinks. Most men desire beauty and cleanliness, and handsome appointments in the saloon they patronize regularly, as well as the essential pre-requisite of genuine wines and liquors that are served to them. And these things are so particularly and properly conspicuous at Otto Sund's elegant resort, the Commercial, at No. 509 on the street of that name that they account thoroughly for the fixed and splendid custom he enjoys. There is nothing allowed to pass his counter but the best and choicest in every department of indulgence, and the service behind it all, is the most pleasing and satisfying in the city.

THE NEW FIRE ACT

Stringently Provides Protection Against Forest Fires.

WARDEN IN EACH COUNTRY

In All Counties Except Clatsop and Tillamook The Annual Slashings Shall Be Burned With Care and Precaution—Must Have Spark Arresters

SALEM, Or., May 3.—Among the most important of the acts adopted by the Legislature, which goes into effect 25th, is that which provides protection against forest fires, creates a State Board of Forestry, provides for the appointment of State Fire Wardens, prescribes their powers and duties, provides for a closed season when the starting of fires in dangerous proximity to timber, etc., and repeals the act of 1905.

The new act, with the exception that its provisions are much more stringent and tightly drawn regarding the setting out of fires and that the appointing power of fire wardens, or rangers, is removed from the county courts and delegated to the State Board of Forestry and the penalties for violations are made a little more severe, is in substance practically the same as the act of 1905 and it goes into effect at a time when the operations of the two acts will join together harmoniously and without necessitating any radical changes.

The State Fire Warden, at least one, one, if necessary, more, to be appointed in each county, subject to the recommendation of property owners or counties, shall serve without compensation from the state and must depend upon the county or property owners for whatever compensation they may receive. State and county officials, constables, sheriffs and deputy sheriffs, whose duties make their ex-officio services as fire wardens especially desirable as a convenience to the public, shall accept appointments as such when formally requested by the State Board of Forestry.

Fire wardens shall be clothed with the power of peace officers to make arrests for violations of forest laws, and they are required to keep a constant lookout for fires in their jurisdiction and to see that violators of the law are quickly brought to punishment; any neglect or infraction of the duties prescribed to the fire wardens subjects them to a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $50, or imprisonment.

The closed season for fires is from June 1 to October 1 of each year, during which period it shall be unlawful for any one to set on fire or cause to be set on fire any slashing, chopping wood, wood land or brush land, either his own or the property of another, without permission from a state fire warden and strict compliance with the terms of same, but this restriction does not apply to the burning of log piles, stumps or brush heaps in small quantities, at a safe distance from another inflammable material and under adequate precautions and personal control, and in accordance with regulations to be adopted by the board; but if any such burning without permission shall result in the escape of fire to the property of another, this shall be held as prima facie evidence that such burning was not safe and was a violation of this section.

Any person who sets on fire or causes to be set on fire any woods, brush, grass, grain, stubble or other material being or growing on any lands not his own, without permission from the owner, or who willfully or negligently allows fire to escape from his own land, or anyone who accidentally sets any fire on his own land or another's and allows it to escape from his control without extinguishing it, or using every effort to do so, is subject to punishment by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $1000, or imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than one year.

It is lawful, however, to build campfires, in a careful manner on any uninclosed lands, the owner of which has not forbidden the building of same by personal or posted notice, if, before departing the builder of the fire totally extinguishes the same; neither do these provisions apply to the setting of back fires, in good faith, to prevent the progress of a fire than burning.

In all counties of the state, except Clatsop and Tillamook, all persons, firms or corporations engaged in logging, etc., shall each year burn their annual slashing at such time and in such manner and with such provision of help as will confine the fire to their own lands, but the State Board of Forestry, upon request by such or adjoining timber owners, can extend or restrict the limit of time in which such burning shall be done in cases where it deems that public safety so requires. Railroad companies or operators are also required, when so directed by the board, annually to burn or destroy or remove all inflammable material from the right of way. Locomotives, logging engines, portable engines, using fuel other than oil, in or near forest or brush land, shall be provided with an adequate spark-arrester and escape of fire from any engine shall be prima facie evidence that such appliances have not been properly maintained. The imposing of penalties prescribed for violation of any of the provisions of the act do not bar action at law by the United States, state, county or private owner whose property is injured or destroyed by fire, for damages suffered if the fires occur through willfulness, malice or negligence.

WRESTLES WITH AN OLD ENEMY.

G. Wingate since his return from his Coos Bay trip has been laid up with an attack of rheumatism. Yesterday he was down town for a while. For years Mr. Wingate has owned several hundred acres of timber lands in Coos County and he tried to sell at different times and three years ago he offered them for $10 per acre with no takers. Now loggers are logging off the lands adjacent to his property and are paying $5 per 1000 stumps and on the same basis Mr. Wingate stands in line to make a big thing off of his lands.

NEW S. P. CUT OFF.

Harriman to Invade Territory North of Sunset Route.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—It is said that President Harriman of the Union Pacific system is now planning a new cut off in that territory north of the present Sunset Line of the Southern Pacific. President Ripley and himself, it is said, settled their fight in Arizona by compromising. Both will use the road through the Box Canyon and also use the Phoenix & Eastern, which will be extended as the Box Canyon Line. It is not the intention to abandon the present Sunset Line, but the proposed route will be used for fast freight trains as the grades will be much less than on the present line.
